
\ "The Price of Freedom\"

A ghostly image of a Soldier stood in the background, as a Mother with a babe in her arms stood by a grave site.

She lowly whispered, "Father this is your Son. Son this is your Father. He gave his life so that other might live"

Shirley Smothers

Being a woman and a veteran I realize that women die and leave behind families. I wrote this poem before women were allowed into battle.
