Hello and welcome to the forum :) . We would like to welcome you to our new user forum, one of the many community based features we plan to introduce to the website in the coming weeks.

This particular area of the forum is devoted to special announcements regarding the forum and any technical issues during and after the Beta period.

Please keep you eye out for important notices.

Member posting is disabled for this forum but any member is welcome to use one of the other boards to communicate with us.

Sincerely
The Webmaster
